Intelligent Transportation Society of Georgia Announces New Officers and Directors

Anthony Bradford of GDOT named President

AUGUSTA, GA (October 2, 2007) – The Intelligent Transportation Society of Georgia (ITSGA) today announced the election of Officers and Directors for the 2008 – 2009 term. The newly elected officers and directors were introduced at ITS Georgia’s annual meeting in Augusta, Georgia.

Anthony Bradford of the Georgia Department of Transportation (GDOT) was elected president to succeed Marvin Woodward of the Georgia Regional Transportation Authority. Kenn Fink of Kimley-Horn was elected vice-president, succeeding Mr. Bradford. Christine Macaulay of Delcan was reelected secretary and Susie Dunn of the Atlanta Regional Commission was reelected treasurer. The officers also serve as directors.

Elected to the board of directors were: Ronald Boodhoo, GDOT; John Hibbard, PBS&J; Carla Holmes, Grice & Associates; Shahram Malek, Iteris, Tom Sever, Gwinnett County DOT; Taylor Stukes, Gresham Smith and Partners; and, Marion Waters, Gresham Smith and Partners.

The new directors join existing board members Mark Demidovich of GDOT, Shaun Green of GRTA and Scott Mohler of URS. Retiring board members are Chuck Bailey of Gwinnett County DOT, Michael Hunter of Georgia Tech and Jeff Metarko of Clayton County DOT.

“Traffic congestion and highway safety are on the minds of Georgians and ITS Georgia members are working to improve efficiency and safety of our transportation systems,” said Mr. Bradford. “ITS solutions are a very cost effective and safe way to improve the mobility of the
